<sup>1</sup> A Full Service Court Model signifies that the court does not rely on the clerk of court or any other non-court funded entity to facilitate the creation of official recordings of court proceedings. The court performs all the functions necessary to provide court reporting services for all court proceedings required to be recorded at public expense.

<sup>2</sup> A Shared Model indicates that court reporting services are provided to state attorneys, public defenders, and JAC (i.e., and indigent for cost counsel) using court resources. The court system is then reimbursed at the state level by these parties for these services.

We are transitioning to digital court reporting within the next three months. Information under "Logistics" show our plan for digital reporting. Currently the facilities in all counties are being wired for digital recording and we anticipate advertising and hiring digital reporters prior to April 15. The first proceedings targeted for digital reporting are all county matters and all juvenile except TPR hearings. This will eliminate our dependence on the clerks' staff for recording.

<sup>2</sup> Unit Cost was calculated based on August 2005 projections of the sum of total staffing, total contractual, and total paid to the clerk allocations and reduced by shared cost allocations, if applicable. The result was divided by the number of FY 03-04 filings to be recorded at public expense.

<sup>1</sup> A Full Service Court Model signifies that the court does not rely on the clerk of court or any other non-court funded entity to facilitate the creation of official recordings of court proceedings. The court performs all the functions necessary to provide court reporting services for all court proceedings required to be recorded at public expense.

<sup>2</sup> A Shared Model indicates that court reporting services are provided to state attorneys, public defenders, and JAC (i.e., and indigent for cost counsel) using court resources. The court system is then reimbursed at the state level by these parties for these services.

* Absent an allocation of additional positions to manage the day-to-day operations in Clay & Nassau Counties, following implementation of digital court reporting, we may have to rely on Clerk of Court staff to manage day-to-day operations in those counties.

<sup>1</sup> A Full Service Court Model signifies that the court does not rely on the clerk of court or any other non-court funded entity to facilitate the creation of official recordings of court proceedings. The court performs all the functions necessary to provide court reporting services for all court proceedings required to be recorded at public expense.

<sup>2</sup> A Shared Model indicates that court reporting services are provided to state attorneys, public defenders, and JAC (i.e., and indigent for cost counsel) using court resources. The court system is then reimbursed at the state level by these parties for these services.

* Ratios by County and division would be difficult to calculate. Steno staff, while headquartered in specific counties, cover proceedings in multiple counties. Likewise, digital staff are headquartered in specific counties, but proceedings are monitored across county lines and across divisions.

* In Gilchrist we minimally use the clerk's services in chambers. The predominate business of the court takes place in the courtroom which is recorded by the staff of the Court Reporting Department, hence the answer is "Yes." After the courthouse is renovated, which is in the planning stages, we will not need the assistance of the clerk's office.

Court Reporting Circuit Profiles

As of February 2006

18th Judicial Circuit Brevard & Seminole Counties

Chief Judge: Kerry I. Evander
Trial Court Administrator: Mark Van Bever
Court Technology Officer: Ray Green
Manager, Electronic Court Reporting: Michael Kazoroski

Both counties in the 18th Judicial Circuit are in the start up phase of digital court monitoring and reporting. Brevard County has 2 vacant digital court reporter positions that will not be filled in the short term.

Circuit Wide Fiscal Allocations <sup>1</sup>					Total Filings FY 2004-05	Unit Cost <sup>2</sup>
Fiscal Year	FTE	Total Staffing (Salaries, Benefits and Expenses)	Total Contractual	Total Paid to the Clerks
FY 2005-06	11	$526,082	$613,255	$0	60,418	$13.83

<sup>2</sup> Unit Cost was calculated based on August 2005 projections of the sum of total staffing, total contractual, and total paid to the clerk allocations and reduced by shared cost allocations, if applicable. The result was divided by the number of FY 03-04 filings to be recorded at public expense.

<sup>1</sup> A Full Service Court Model signifies that the court does not rely on the clerk of court or any other non-court funded entity to facilitate the creation of official recordings of court proceedings. The court performs all the functions necessary to provide court reporting services for all court proceedings required to be recorded at public expense.

<sup>2</sup> A Shared Model indicates that court reporting services are provided to state attorneys, public defenders, and JAC (i.e., and indigent for cost counsel) using court resources. The court system is then reimbursed at the state level by these parties for these services.
