Notes:

1. County civil numbers include small claims cases; the previous report did not. However, it appears the CCIS report has attributed the small claims case count to only 2 of the 5 county judges, when the small claims cases are actually distributed amongst the 5 judges. A contractual hearing officer assists with management of small claims pre-trial conferences 2X/week. County civil judges also preside over simplified and uncontested dissolution of marriage calendars; however, those statistics are included in the Family Law Division spreadsheet.
2. County Criminal does not includes cases transferred from traffic division pursuant to local rule and administrative order.

3. Family figures include simplified and uncontested dissolution of marriage cases, which are presided over by county civil judges. Two and one-half (2.5) Child Support Hearing Officers are assigned to the family law division. Two (2) full-time magistrates are assigned to the family law division.

4. There are 1.75 general magistrates assigned to the probate, guardianship and mental health division to hear Baker Act and incapacity hearings.
5. Traffic - Criminal, pursuant to Local Rule 1 (C)(4), and administrative order, certain cases are transferred to the Pinellas County Criminal Justice Center to be heard by a judge assigned to the county criminal division. Those transferred cases have not been included in the County Criminal spreadsheet.
6. In Traffic - Civil, the Contractual Civil Traffic Infraction Hearing Officers were used for approximately 582 hours to hear civil traffic infraction and parking ticket cases.
7. One (1) full time magistrate is assigned to the Unified Family Court to preside over judicial review hearings
8. In Circuit Civil, Senior Judges also heard some motions for summary judgment in residential foreclosure cases from 7/1/10 through 12/31/10.
9. Source: Summary Reporting System (SRS) except for criminal traffic and county civil where CCIS data was utilized.
10. Advisory Judge #1 and Advisory Judge #2 cover all criminal advisory hearings in Pinellas County. While separate statistics are not captured as to the number of advisory hearings conducted, a general rule of thumb is that the Advisory Judges conducted advisory hearings for the 12,542 felony cases filed and for a significant portion of the 28,152 misdemeanor filings.
11. Criminal Division Section M is the career criminal section which includes cases involving serious habitual offenders as defined in section 775.084, Florida Statutes. The judge in this section also hears cases requiring mandatory sentencing pursuant to section 775.087(2), Florida Statutes.
12. Appellate judges preside as a panel; statistics are not kept by individual judge.

* Numbers derived using Clerk CCIS Appropriations Report as of 1/14/11

Eighth Judicial Circuit - Judge Report Notes:

Filings and Dispositions are derived using Summary Reporting System (SRS) definitions.

Locally defined divisions in the Eighth Judicial Circuit include (filings and dispositions for cases in these specialty divisions are included in the Division of origin):

Alachua County Division VI (Post-Conviction Relief Division)
Felony Adult Drug Court (Alachua, Baker and Bradford Counties)
Alachua County Dependency Drug Court
Alachua County Truancy Court
Alachua County CINS/FINS Division

Duty Judge:

In addition to regular duties, Judges rotate duty judge responsibility throughout the year.

These duties include the following:

First Appearance
Child Support Enforcement Arrestees
Temporary Injunctions in Domestic, Repeat, Sexual, and Dating Violence
Adult Protective Services Shelter Hearings
Juvenile Detention Hearings
Juvenile Shelter Hearings
Arrest Warrants
Search Warrants
Pen Registers
Communication Intercepts
Emergency Baker Act Proceedings
Emergency Marchman Act Proceedings
Emergency Medical Treatment
Emergency Treatment of Persons with Communicable Diseases
Emergency Matters of extreme urgency, i.e. matters of life or death or instances of irreparable harm

First Appearance:

Alachua County Court Judges rotate First Appearance responsibility Monday through Friday during normal working hours.

County Judges in Baker, Bradford, Gilchrist, Levy and Union Counties cover First Appearance in their respective counties Monday through Friday during normal working hours.

Eighth Judicial Circuit - Judge Report Notes:

Circuit-wide First Appearance is covered by the Duty Judge during holidays and weekends.

Eighth Judicial Circuit - Judge Report Notes:

Criminal Cases:

Cases with outstanding warrants are not included in disposition totals.

Judges routinely review and sign arrest warrants, search warrants/search warrant returns and pen registers that may not generate a new filing.

Based on reporting limitations, felony cases where State files Information and subsequently files Nolle were hand-counted and included in the new/disposed categories (Baker, Bradford, Gilchrist, Levy and Union Counties).

Filings/Dispositions are derived using SRS definitions

Domestic Relations:

Juvenile Truancy Petitions not included in Filings/Dispositions, per SRS Manual.

Special Cases/Assignments:

Certain individual cases take an inordinate amount of time based on the parties and/or complexity of issues involved.

Civil Traffic / Non-Criminal Infractions

Clerk in Alachua assigns all civil traffic cases to County Civil Divisions. County Civil Divisions are assisted by Traffic Hearing Officer with majority of dispositions.

Non-Criminal Infractions are included in County Civil Divisions in Alachua County.

Appellate Panel

Circuit Judges serve quarterly on Appellate Panel to review County Court appeal cases.

Mediation:

The numbers of closed cases is related to the number of cases successfully mediated.

Notes:

1. All Civil, Family, Probate, and Juvenile Dependency New Filings and Dispositions were pulled using CCIS data. For the Reopens SRS reports Polk Clerk IT created reports to be used in order to capture the correct amount of Reopens. In reference to Re-Closures IT reports were used to capture this data.
2. In pulling data for County Criminal, Circuit Criminal, and Juvenile Delinquency. CCIS data was corrected. After the corrections were made a BOCC IT programmer wrote reports to produce the numbers County Criminal data, Clerk IT wrote reports for Circuit Criminal and Delinquency data.

FROM THE SARASOTA CLERK'S OFFICE--

1. Current Case Management System does not have a history prior of re-opened closed cases. These cases will be included in the disposed category.
2. Cases opened multiple times within the same month will only be reported as one re-open.
3. Civil Reassignments will be reported under the most recent division assignment.
  - Case filed on 07/01/2010, assigned to Division A and reassigned to Division B on 07/15/2010 would appear on the cases filed for July under Division B.
  - Case filed on 07/01/2010, assigned to Division A and reassigned to Division B on 08/15/2010 would appear on the cases filed for July under Division A.
4. Criminal Cases the Division Judge at filing and disposition would be the same, even if a different Judge disposed of the case.
  - Division 2 assigned to Judge North, however Judge South disposed of the case for Judge North. Case would be reflected under cases disposed for Division 2.
5. Case Management system can only reflect the current status of a case. Thus with the report is generated it will reflect the current status of the case. For example:
  - Case "A" was disposed of November 1, 2010 and re-opened on December 5, 2010. If the report was run in January 2011, Case "A" would be reported under the re-open section of the report.
6. All case status history can be verified/reviewed through CCIS.
7. Clerk is unable to provide "Reopens Closed" in any division.

Thirteenth Judicial Circuit - Judge Report Notes:

1. The source of the data contained in this report is the Hillsborough County Clerk of Court's case maintenance system. The staff of the clerk's office was instrumental in being able to produce this report. There are significant limitations on the clerk's ability to provide the data required. Their existing case maintenance system is old and does not have the functional capability to produce the data without substantial manual intervention. The clerk is in the process of replacing the existing system but it is not anticipated that the new system will be in place until sometime in 2012. As a result, a large portion of this report was produced manually.
2. Another limitation relates to the requirement to report reopened case dispositions. The existing case maintenance system does not have the capability to separate dispositions of new cases from reopened. In order to report reopened case dispositions, a staff person is required to match case numbers of reopen case filings with dispositions on a case by case basis.
3. In addition to the limitations described in notes 1 and 2, the clerk has a separate legacy traffic case maintenance system. The clerk is in process of replacing this system as well but as of this time, must rely on the old system to produce the traffic data required for this report. As a result, it was necessary to reconstruct the traffic data using manual processes.
4. The CCIS case maintenance system operated by the Florida Association of Court Clerks was not used to produce this report. After access and review of the data contained in this system, it was determined that there are unexplainable differences in the data in this system versus the data maintained locally by the Hillsborough County Clerk of Court. After discussions with the clerk of courts operations staff, it was agreed that the data from the locally maintained case maintenance system was more reliable. For example, for Circuit Civil Division J, the CCIS shows that there were 10,997 new case added in calendar year 2010. In the local case maintenance system, Circuit Civil Division J 2,421. Similar comparisons of data in other divisions revealed similar discrepancies. The significant discrepancies in the two data sources coupled with the advice of local court clerk operations staff that the CCIS data is suspect led us to the conclusion to not use the CCIS data.

Fifteenth Judicial Circuit - Judge Report Notes:

1. The data sets were obtained from the Clerk and Comptroller's case management system, Banner/CJIS. Court Administration worked collaboratively with the Clerk and Comptroller's Office to obtain the data sets and to ensure the accuracy of the report. The types of cases not listed in this report include: Administrative Department of Revenue cases, out of county bond cases and delinquency diversion cases.
2. In the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit, the Chief Judge position is responsible for Circuit-wide administrative matters, operations, procedures, and policies. A divisional caseload is not assigned to the Chief Judge position. Therefore, the workload carried by the current Chief Judge, Peter D. Blanc, is not captured by the caseload reports.
3. There is no mechanism in the clerk's case management system to capture those instances when a judge is unexpectedly out of the office and a second judge presides over the calendar and disposes of a case. Thus, in such a situation, the clerk's data reflects a disposition by the divisional judge.
4. The divisional report will not match the judicial report as it pertains to criminal cases because the sentencing judge is not always the divisional judge.
5. To effectuate efficient court operations, the Circuit has established specialized assignments: first appearance, Gun Club arraignments, trial divisions, and Mental Health. First appearance is a very high volume daily docket relating to a defendant's initial appearance. On average there are over 100 hearings per day. The vast majority of these hearings are currently heard by Judge Krista Marx. These hearings will not be reflected as a filed case in either report unless an information is filed by the State Attorney—and for the majority of the hearings, an information is not filed (consequently a felony case is not filed).

The majority of the county arraignment docket (criminal) is presided over at the Gun Club facility by Judge Ted Booras. This docket results in a higher number of cases for the arraignment judge, when compared to the other criminal division judges.

The trial division judges, Judge Lucy Brown and Judge Barry Cohen, appear to have a disproportionately lower number of cases than the other criminal divisions. The lower numbers are a result of the greater amount of judicial time needed per case to accommodate a

The Mental Health specialty division handles felony competency cases from all of the felony divisions where incompetency is at issue. These specialized cases are presided over by Judge Krista Marx. However, the associated filings and dispositions of these cases are accounted for in the originating felony divisions. Therefore, in this report, Judge Krista Marx's divisional numbers do not reflect her caseload.

6. The assignment location of a county criminal division judge can also affect caseload numbers. For example, county criminal judges assigned to a "branch" courthouse (e.g., North, South, or Gun Club) handle a large volume of arraignment hearings as these cases are not assigned to a division until after a not guilty plea is entered. Therefore, these county criminal judges in the Branch locations have caseloads substantially higher than the other criminal judges.
7. The majority of the sitting judges also act as a Duty Judge, on a rotational basis, in addition to their regular caseload. Therefore, the majority of the judges will have filings and dispositions for criminal case types, even if the judge is assigned to a civil division.
8. Defendants and co-defendants in a felony case are assigned the same case number. Therefore, the number of cases filed is lower than the actual number of defendants charged with a crime.
9. Due to vacancies, during the calendar year, a judge may be assigned to two divisions in order to cover the vacancy.
10. The juvenile dependency filings do not accurately reflect the judicial workload associated with these cases. Juvenile dependency cases are filed under name of the oldest child. The majority of these cases involve multiple children and multiple fathers, all listed together in one dependency petition filing, and the "one" filing can encompass 18-35 years over the mother's child bearing years. The sitting judge handles each child separately but is "credited" with handling only one case.
11. In juvenile dependency cases, pro-se litigants often request hearings or a desire to modify placement of the child by sending their request in a letter directly to the court. The divisional judge presides over these pro-se modifications but because a formal "modification" was not filed, the case is not recorded by the clerk's case management system as "reopened" (the letter does not trigger a formal pleading in the clerk's data system). This results in the reopened cases, listed in the juvenile dependency category, being listed as slower than the actual number of reopened cases.

12. Juvenile Judges who preside over the juvenile case in a Unified Family Court filing (filed as a Domestic Relations case) do not have these cases included in their caseload data (filing/disposition) because the clerk's case management system lists the case as a Domestic Relations case and the system is unable to change the listing of the divisional assignment.
13. The Civil Traffic Hearing Officers disposed of 84,224 traffic infraction cases.
14. Circuit Civil, County Civil, and senior judges, assigned to divisions other than AW (foreclosure division) assisted with foreclosure cases from January 1, 2010-June 30, 2010. The clerk's computer system is designed to capture only one judge assignment at any given time, and unless permanent reassignment is ordered these cases will show in division AW. Similarly, from July 1, 2010-December 31, 2010, senior judges' assistance with the AW cases (foreclosure cases) are also shown under the division AW.
15. During the reporting time period, senior judges also assisted with the disposition of an undetermined number of cases in all court divisions.
16. County Criminal cases disposed of at Community Court were equally divided by the County Criminal Judges located at the Main Courthouse. These cases are heard on a rotational basis by the County Criminal Judges located at the Main Courthouse.

17. County Court appellate cases, in both criminal and civil court, are handled on a rotational basis by a panel of three Circuit Judges. Because these cases are handled on a rotational basis and not assigned to one judge in particular, the cases were equally divided among the Circuit
18. There is no specific judge assignment at the time of case initiation and, to a far lesser degree, at the time of disposition, for TR, CO, MO, and IN case types. The case initiation of these case types and some dispositions of these case types are captured in the "no judge" designation in this report. The "no judge" designation is the repository of those cases that were initiated, disposed, re-opened, and re-disposed, but did not have a judge formally assigned in the system; these cases are heard by a fixed group of rotating judges. The "no judge" designation also includes all TRs, COs, MOs, and INs that were paid out and had no judge involvement. For example, the case initiation for a TR case (traffic citation) that was paid with no court involvement is included in this "no judge" designation as well as the case initiation for a TR case (traffic citation 30 mph over speed limit - mandatory court appearance). The case management system is unable to separate what matters were heard by a judge and what matters were not in the "no judge" designation. The matters that were heard by a judge under the "no judge" designation are a low percentage of the total number of cases appearing in the "no judge" designation category (for example, approximately 2,700 of the 314,000 cases for the mandatory court appearance TR cases).
19. A more accurate measure of workload volume would include data collected at the event level, not at the case level. Event level data would quantify the number of instances requiring judicial intervention.
